DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 7,039,686.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all the limitations of claims 1-20 are broad enough to be encompassed by the limitations of claims 1-4 of the patent and as such it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to implement the instant invention using the limitations of the claims of the patent in order to download desired applications.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 and 8-14, 16 and 18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Katz et al. (5,926,624) discloses a method for downloading digital information files to a playback device.

Jackson (6,416,466) discloses a portable digital entertainment apparatus for providing 'on demand' distribution of digital data, such as songs.

Hsu et al. (6,587,684) discloses a system for downloading software related to digital telephone services.

Tone et al. (6,640,306) discloses a transmitting unit for transmitting selected user's desired data from a plurality of stored data programs.

Takagaki (6,871,048) discloses a mobile communication apparatus for obtaining information of desired contents.
